Aims to restore families affected by incarceration, prevent juvenile delinquency, and help break the cycle of intergenerational incarceration. To foster positive relationships between mothers and children, the program promotes the importance of maintaining a healthy bond despite separation and provides critical life skills to all those involved. After more than a decade of the Girl Scouts Beyond Bars program, we know the more a girl participates, the greater her chances are for long-term success and to break the cycle of incarceration.

As a Girl Scout, you're part of your troop, council, and the nationwide movement. When we can't be together in person, we can be together in spirit and stay connected to our sisterhood online. Troop meetings are amazing, but being a Girl Scout doesn't stop there.

All girls—even if you're not a Girl Scout yet!—are invited to participate in these Girl Scouts at Home activities!
